Failing to identify a request as a form of “frivolous” is, as it should be, the death knell of whatever misguided idea of “diversity” the person in charge of hiring (or interviewing) is running on. It’s where rationality and common sense have their heads screwed on backwards. It’s where stupid is transformed into smart. So, to give Darlene this long overdue (though I expect you’ll go out of your way to ignore) written reply:

1. I don’t have the slightest notion what I’m talking about. I don’t know who you are. I don’t know what you do. And I don’t know what you’re talking about. You have no idea what I am talking about.
2. I have no knowledge of being a racist or a sex offender. You have no knowledge of being a sexist. So you, as a person, are wrong. You have no knowledge. You have no right to judge me as a person. You have no right to judge my opinions.
3. Unless you’re an insider, you have no knowledge of “diversity,” and you don’t know what my personal
