The strikes were carried out "in the framework of the resistance against the aggression on Syria," it said in a statement. AD "Fifteen structures and vehicles were targeted," it said. "Targeting these institutions will not solve the problem of terrorism, but will only be a means to support terrorism." AD "We will not hesitate to target those who are behind the scenes," it added. In the southern Lebanese city of Sidon, Amal Movement — a Syrian ally that is part of the rebel Free Syrian Army — said the Air Force Intelligence and Security Directorate had carried out the air strikes. The brigades said their operation was against a camp in the suburbs of Damascus. "Amal Movement announces that the Air Force Intelligence and Security Directorate ... carried out four drones air strikes in the vicinity of a camp in the suburbs of Damascus," the brigades said in a statement. In a statement, Syrian state TV said three people were killed, with the deaths attributed to "terrorist gangs." AD More than 142,000 people have been killed in the Syrian conflict since it began in March 2011, and nearly half a million Syrians have been displaced. Evaluating the influence of breed prevalence on the performance of molecular diagnosis assays for ovine Johne's disease. Johne's disease is a worldwide problem, affecting food-producing animals in developed as well as developing countries. The recommended control measure is the application of a Johne's disease (JD) causal live vaccine. However, many dairy and beef breeds are susceptible to infection and are thus excluded from JD control programs. To help inform decisions regarding the impact of breed prevalence on JD diagnostic performance, we calculated the frequency of a JD-causing deletion in the lipopolysaccharide [Ovis aries, MboMbo lactans, MboMbo major group] biosynthesis island and an ancillary target in
