After making a list of strings I am trying to put each item in a single variable. But when I call the function it gives me a NullPointerException and the output is shown as String[] str = I have tried putting the String[] str in another array for populating a textview but still gets a null pointer exception. Here is the code public void function1(View v) { String[] str = functions(0); Log.i("Here", "string: " + str); System.out.println("string" + str[0] + " " + str[1]); } public String[] functions(int x) { String numbers[] = new String[2]; numbers[0] = "Test"; numbers[1] = "Test"; String temp = ""; numbers[0]
