Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a polishing apparatus for polishing an object to be polished such as a semiconductor wafer, a glass substrate for a liquid crystal display, a glass plate, a magnetic disk substrate, or the like by using a polishing pad. The present invention also relates to a polishing method and a polishing liquid used in the polishing apparatus, and a dressing method and a dressing liquid used in the polishing apparatus. 2. Description of the Related Art In recent years, high integration and high density in semiconductor devices such as ICs, LSIs, and the like, have been demanded. In accordance with the demand, thickness and flatness in the surface of a wafer that is a semiconductor substrate, an insulating film, or the like has been strictly regulated. Furthermore, for a CVD film, a sputtering film, or the like, the film thickness and film quality have been controlled. Recently, a film thickness of several hundred Å or less, or a film thickness of several μm or less has been required. In order to achieve the film thickness control, a chemical mechanical polishing (CMP) technology is utilized, and conventionally there
