This is an application for continued support of an interdisciplinary training program in Cancer Biology at the University of Michigan (UM) which has been established in 1999. The faculty consists of 26 members of 9 basic science departments drawn from the Colleges of Medicine, Pharmacy and Dentistry and the School of Public Health. The support of this T32 Program will allow for integrated training and research, because the program is only possible if training is tied to research through the T32 mechanism, as well as to reduce costs. Our overall goals are to train predoctoral students in Cancer Biology in order to enhance their understanding of the basic mechanisms underlying cancer progression and treatment; to develop an interdisciplinary, transdisciplinary and translational approach to cancer research and education in a University setting; and to attract trainees from underrepresented groups. There are 20 training slots available for predoctoral students for the next funding period of 5 years (beginning July 1, 2011). In total, 21 students are currently enrolled in this program and are currently supported. We also plan to continue our annual Cancer Research Day activities, established in 2006, which bring together basic and clinical cancer researchers at UM to foster interdisciplinary interactions and educational activities. Cancer Research Day is a coordinated program of activities established in 2003 that involves the three UofM Schools of Medicine, Pharmacy, and Public Health, as well as the UofM Center for Functional Genomics, the Cancer Research Center, UM's institutional Comprehensive Cancer Center, UM's Comprehensive Cancer Center, UM's Institute for Applied Cancer Science, the UofM Immunology Institute, the UofM Molecular Imaging Institute and the UM Comprehensive Center for Chemical Genomics. Total annual Cancer Research Day attendance has increased to over 1,200 researchers and trainees since the founding of the program in 2003. We are committed to maintaining this as a successful interdisciplinary training program in cancer biology, and have the support of the Dean and the entire UM research community. The further you go, the harder it is to get cards, and all of a player's cards are available to him at once. Building Players are rated by a number of parameters, including performance, reputation and potential. Having earned them through your play, you can build a collection of the best players by purchase, by draft, and by free agents.
